Dr. Keith's Poultry Palace

September 2016

Hi <<First Name>>

Our many thanks to those of you who contributed to our "Spring Chicken" campaign back in April. We're delighted to share with you the results of your generosity, thanks to pictures and descriptions provided by Pastor Roy Stover, of Elma Barnett Children's Centre. A major donation to the project was made by Dr. Keith Edwards, Walindwa Director and Vice President. Keith and his family are frequent visitors to Eldama Ravine and EBCCK, most recently in June, so Philip Koskei, the farm manager, has taken to calling the coop the "Dr. Keith Poultry Palace" – quite a sobriquet, don't you think?

Looking into the building – hens are on the right, roosters on the left.

This picture is take–in the center of the building where we have shelves and store area for feed, etc. Philip and Dickson send their greetings.

The laying boxes are being used, on this the very first day we put the hens into the yard. There were 15 eggs in all. There are some things yet to do but it is coming along fine. We will put in feeders and water units. I hope these pictures will give you a bit of joy and up lift your spirits for the day. We are very thankful for the provision of the Dr. Keith's Poultry Palace. Blessings to you all, Pastor Roy Stover
